

» How do I read my reports? (User):

- Communication Coach tracks everything you do from log-in to log-out. Your reports will help you track your progress with the program.

- Reports is where you go to monitor your progress with Communication Coach.

Note: you only have access to your own reports.

- Your coaches can also access your reports so that they can provide you with additional feedback and guidance on how to use Communication Coach optimally.

Session Report

- The session report shows you how you spent your time in each session.
 1. It gives the date and time you logged, the total number of lessons you interacted with and how many times you were in Practice and Example Mode.
 2. The next column is the total time you spent working in Communication Coach.
 3. The last column has a graphic that when clicked will show you the percentage breakdown of how you spent your time.

Lesson Report

- The Lessons Report shows you all the lessons you've worked on across all sessions:

1. The first column tells you the Category and Lesson
2. Going across you can see how many times you were in Example, how many times you Practiced in full text and key phrase mode and visited the coach screen.
3. Under Full Text and Key Phrases, you see it divided the times in Practice or Toggle.

*Any time you used one or more of the toggle buttons (example, listen to your recording, and re-record) it will show as Toggle. If you simply recorded and never listened or re-recorded, it shows as Practice only. Remember these numbers are cumulative so they will grow each time you go back to a lesson.

There are two types of Quiz Reports:

Quiz Report

- Gives your score for the entire quiz.

You'll see how many questions you answered correctly, incorrectly and your score. Next is your history – your minimum and maximum scores for all your attempts. Then how many times you attempted the quiz. And lastly the last date and time you took that quiz.
